GREETINGS FROM THE HALLER ENTERPRISE INSTITUTE

As executive director, I encourage you to become part of our exciting and rewarding program for student entrepreneurs. This program is open to all students regardless of their major.

You are invited to apply for a $2,000 Haller Scholarship awarded on an annual basis to 12 to 14 incoming first-year students at Thiel. I wish you the best as you pursue your entrepreneurship dreams.

Please feel free to contact me directly at dmiller@thiel.edu.

More information on the Haller Enterprise Institute can be found by visiting: www.thiel.edu/haller

2011-2012 Haller Scholarship Recipients

- Michael Bryant, binary engineering
- Nicholas Catanzarito, forensic accounting
- Rita Curry, business administration
- Ashley Dolan, communication sciences & disorders
- Derrick Durbin, business administration/finance
- Molly Jo Everett, forensic accounting
- Jennifer Feldhouse, computer science
- William Frizzi, criminal justice studies
- Jenna Green, business administration
- Sarah Jefferson, business administration/advertising
- Ethan Ludwig, environmental science
- Sharniqua Martin, political science
- Samuel Naas, business administration
- Audrey Rattay, business administration
- Jared Soell, business administration
- Emily Skebo, early childhood education
- Michael Whitelock, criminal justice studies
The sole purpose of the Haller Enterprise Institute is to help Thiel College students seriously pursue their dream of going into business for themselves.

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Students may apply for $2,000 academic scholarships, awarded on the basis of their present involvement and future commitment to entrepreneurial activity. To maintain scholarships, students must continue to demonstrate entrepreneurial interest, actively participate in the Haller Enterprise Institute and maintain good academic standing.

INTRODUCTION TO ENTREPRENEURSHIP CLASS

Open to all majors and taught by the executive director of the Haller Enterprise Institute, Professor David Miller, the course focuses on how to start a business and requires no course prerequisites. Students who participate will earn three credit hours and learn how to develop successful business plans and how to manage a small business.

ENTREPRENEUR OF THE YEAR

Each year, participants in the Haller Enterprise Institute are invited to a special recognition dinner at the College where the “Entrepreneur of the Year Award” is presented to a business person who has demonstrated entrepreneurial leadership. The dinner brings together young entrepreneurs with role models after which to pattern themselves.