

General Withdrawal policy

Withdrawal and Readmission

To formally withdraw from the College, a student must secure the proper form from the registrar's office and file the completed form with the registrar. Any student who officially withdraws while in good academic standing may return to Thiel by writing a letter to the registrar requesting readmission.

Students who withdraw while on probation or who have been academically suspended may apply for readmission by writing a letter to the registrar. This letter must include a statement of the student's short-term and long-term goals, and must provide adequate evidence that since leaving Thiel, the student has developed the necessary maturity, motivation and academic skills to pursue an academic program to successful completion. The Academic Standing Committee will review the petition and determine whether readmission is warranted.

Any student who is accepted for readmission to Thiel must meet all College and departmental requirements as stated in the Academic Catalog at the time of readmission.
