KAPPA DELTA PI

INTERNATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY IN EDUCATION

Where

you begin to create quality learning for all

An honor and a challenge to make education better

Since the Illinois Education Club became Kappa Delta Pi in 1911, students and educators have worked to improve the field of education worldwide. As a member of this honor society, you'll not only receive support throughout your education, you will also be joining such people as Jane Addams, Margaret Meade, George Washington Carver, and Albert Einstein in finding ways to give people hope through learning.

Membership is awarded to the top 20% of students and professionals in the field of education.
