

ASK THE EXPERT:

Getting Your Affairs in Order

Too many people wait for a crisis to make decisions about their care and wishes. That creates additional stress and upset in an already trying time. Make things easier for you and your loved ones by preparing and getting your affairs in order now.

Join us for a FREE panel discussion. Some of the topics that will be covered:

- Wills
- Durable Power of Attorney
- Healthcare Power of Attorney
- Advance Health Directives
- Funeral Pre-Planning

THURSDAY, MARCH 23

6 to 7:30 p.m.

The Keifer Building at St. Paul's
341 E. Jamestown Road
Greenville, PA 16125

Rt. 58 across the road from the sports complex*

MEET OUR EXPERTS:

Jason Dibble
Attorney at Wallace and Dibble, LLP

Cris Loutzenhiser
Owner of Loutzenhiser Funeral Homes

Jason Dibble is an attorney at Wallace & Dibble Law Firm in Greenville. Born and raised in Greenville, he graduated from Duquesne Law School in 2004. After practicing law in Pittsburgh and Greensburg for a few years, he returned to Greenville to practice in 2006 and went on to become a partner at the Wallace & Dibble Law Firm in 2013. Jason specializes in estate planning, estate and trust administration, as well as real estate and corporate law. He was recently named one of Mercer County's Top 40 under 40.

Cris Loutzenhiser is the owner of Loutzenhiser Funeral Homes and a Licensed Funeral Director. He is a 1994 graduate of Greenville Senior High School and a 1997 graduate of the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science. He also serves as the Mercer County Deputy Coroner and is on the Board of Directors of the Greenville Salvation Army, Greenville Lions Club and the Northern Mercer County Community Foundation, as well as the Thiel College Board of Associates.

Seating is limited. Please RSVP by Monday, March 16, 2017 to gfat@lifeatstpauls.org or call 724-588-9613, Ext. 1217.

Light Refreshments