

Thiel College

Environmental Club

Where

you can help save the earth

Thiel College Environmental Club works tirelessly to promote environmental awareness.

If you're concerned about the environment, and want to do something to help, the Thiel College Environmental Club is for you. This student led club educates the campus and the surrounding community to the problems – and solutions of caring for our planet.

We organize clean up days, participate in Earth Week activities, help with campus recycling, fundraise for Relay-for-Life and much more. Come help us build a better future and make friends all while having a great time!

To become a member, simply contact:

Anna Reinsel, Ph.D. '06

Faculty Advisor, Associate Professor of Env. Science and Chemistry

✉ areinsel@thiel.edu

THIEL
COLLEGE