

Speech-Language Pathology

Frequently Asked Questions

What makes the Speech-Language Pathology program at Thiel different from others?

Our 14-month on-campus accelerated program provides intensive knowledge of scientific and cultural foundations of human communication in the classroom and hands-on experiences in our campus clinic.

How much does it cost to pursue a Speech-Language Pathology degree at Thiel College?

All tuition and program fees, a laptop and equipment are included in the total sum for this 14-month master's degree program. The total cost for this program including a graduate assistantship discount is $53,936.

When does each cohort of students begin?

Classes begin in January or June of each year on campus through December. Students then spend the rest of the program in rotations either in a medical placement or a school district.

What is required for admission to the Speech-Language Pathology Program?

Students are required to submit an application through the CSDCAS platform and submit undergraduate transcripts to show a 3.0 cumulative GPA, three letters of recommendation and a personal statement as to why the student is interested in the program.

Are graduate assistantships available?

Yes! A graduate assistantship is available for each student. This allows for hands-on experience in our Campus Speech-Language Clinic that provides free services for the local Mercer County community.

Is the program accredited?

Yes. This program is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation for Speech-Language Pathology.

Advance your career with a graduate degree from Thiel College

You want to be at the top of your game and to define your success. You want that competitive edge and limitless opportunities. You want Thiel.

Pursue your purpose

all the way to the top.

* 2022 U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Current Population Survey.

Median Annual Earnings

*U.S. persons age 25 and over

Scan the QR Tommy for more information.

